Discussion of activities / actions of group8 to end iteration 1 and to start iteration 2

At the end of iteration one, we took a look at what user stories were complete and where we stood on functionality requirements. We saw that some of our links needed to be edited in order to make each users view unique. Seeing that we realize we will now be working on that in the next iteration. The functionality requirements from our customer that were supposed to be completed in iteration one are at the top of our list for iteration two. We also know are able to identify each other's strengths and will be better able to assign parts of the IS to each other accordingly. Overall, we will become more effective as a team as the iterations move on because of our knowledge of each other. The IS will continue to be tweaked and improved throughout our process.